Join our collaborative effort to transform Syracuse, our nation and our world!

*With sadness
we say goodbye to the American Friends Service Committee in Syracuse. They have been an important voice in our community for decades. They leave a gap in our movement and office space for rent at the Center.*

Starting early in 2010, rental space will be available on the accessible first floor of the Syracuse Center for Peace & Social Justice, a nonprofit facility created to support organizations working for progressive social change in our community.

Rents are reasonable: about $1/square foot/month, plus a proportional share of utilities. There is about 900 square feet of available office space. We are open to reconfiguring the space as needed.

Besides separate office space, organizations residing in the Center may use a small conference room on the first floor, a larger space for meetings and presentations on the 2nd floor (not currently accessible to people who can't climb stairs) and a small meeting/work room space on the ground floor.
